

Something to Help You Along

-----

D7

No one would blame you

We've all gone a little wrong

A7

Sometimes you just need

Something to help you along

-----

A7

A new thought

They don't get you

How could they understand?

The things they said,

None of it matters

Nonsense & clatter

D7

Time to get a new plan

All it takes is a decision

And we can start right now

A7

A brand new beginning

And soon we'll be winning

And nothing from before will count

-----

E7

No one would blame you

D7

We've all gone a little wrong

A7

Sometimes you just need

Something to help you along

-----

This will be the last time

Then we can finally move on

They shouldn't always try to control you

No one should tell you it's wrong

There's a fire in your throat

You're choking on the relief

But, by god, now that's got it

You know that you've caught it

And now you finally can breathe

E7 D#7 D7

Ah, breathe

Breathe sweet relief

Breathe

Breathe that sweet relief

-----

D7

And no one would blame you

Because we've all gone a little wrong

A7

Sometimes you just need

Something to help you along